The Green's of Axe Creek and Warragamba

Ireland

Patrick O'Farrell in his book "The Irish in Australia"¹ has pointed out that "America received the majority of the worst of the famine victims from Ireland, very few famine refugees came to Australia, its mass Irish population came from the 1850's to the 1880's in search of gold, land, fortune and adventure. They were much more accomplished, venturesome and a happy lot than those the famine had dumped on America."

When Patrick Green died in 1874, it was shown on his death certificate that he was born in Killila in County Clare, Ireland, and that he had spent two years in Queensland and 20 years in Victoria. It showed that his father's name was Thomas Green and that his mother was Ann Green formerly O'Connor. On his wife Ann Green's death certificate in 1904 it showed that her father was James O'Laughlin and her mother was Mary O'Laughlin formerly Lacey and that she was born in Clare.

On examination of the records of the Griffith's Valuation for the parish of Killilagh (County Clare, west coast of Ireland)², Patrick Greene was shown as the last tenant in Lough South³ and there were also O'Connors in Lough North and Lough South, James O'Laughlin was found in Crognacort West and the Lacey's were in Carnaun and CaherMaclancy a few miles north. Patrick Greene and Partners were also shown as tenants in the Tithe Applotment books of 1828 in the Lough South area⁴, they were shown as renting 139 acres in all. Later in the Griffith's Valuation he is shown as renting two lots on his own of 14.3 and 13.2 acres.⁵

Queensland

Patrick had been born in 1808 and Ann O'Laughlin in 1828, they married in November 1845 when Ann was 16 and Patrick 35 to 36 years. Their first child Bridget was born in 1846 and some time in 1851 they must have made the decision to migrate to Australia, sailing on the "Meridian" which arrived at Moreton Bay on 12 August 1852. The family was part of that very deliberate migration policy to populate Moreton Bay in Queensland in the period 1848 to 1852.

Ann must have been pregnant on board the ship as her second child James was born in Brisbane on 14 March 1852⁶. Family oral memory⁷ had the family living in Fortitude Valley and intending to farm on the Darling Downs but they became disappointed with the quality of land and decided to leave for Victoria. Records on death certificates show that they were in Brisbane for only two years, so could have left there sometime in the latter half of 1854 as the next child William was born in March 1855. It is interesting to note that the godparents of James were the Howards who were also fellow passengers on the Meridian. Another piece of information from the Meridian passenger list was that Patrick could read and write but Ann could only read.

Information from William's birth certificate of March 1855⁸ indicates that Ann (sometimes known as Hanora or Hannah), was born in Doolin⁹ which is about a mile north of Lough South in the area of Patrick Green's activity (Killilagh in Clare). Their wedding took place in Doolin on 1 November 1845.

Bendigo

Examination of the coastal shipping records for the period for the second half of 1854 and first half of 1855 produced a Mr and Mrs P.Green travelling steerage on the Yarra Yarra from Sydney on September 1854. The ages given were 35 for Patrick, 30 for Ann and 4 years for the female child, no small child was mentioned. Given that Patrick had wrongly stated his age on the Meridian as 34 when he was 44 and Ann (Honora) as 27 when she was 24 and later gave inaccurate ages on birth certificates of William and Patrick Junior, one can confidently discount the accuracy of the ages on the Yarra Yarra. The absence of the male small child (James) may have had something to do with the ticket payment. An interesting fact is that the Yarra Yarra was a barque of 479 tons, trading at that period between Melbourne and Singapore, it started this trade on 27 April 1853 and it is logical to conclude that Patrick and Ann picked it up in Moreton Bay on its route down from Singapore to Melbourne. If one can discount the bureaucratic inaccuracies, it is reasonable to assume that it was the Green family on the Yarra Yarra (no other P. Green is referenced in coastal shipping of the time). Once again Ann was pregnant, this time with William.

The next mention of Patrick, Ann, Bridget and James comes with the registration of William's birth (14 March 1855) on 20 June at Sandhurst. Patrick's occupation is given as Gold Miner and the place of birth was Bendigo Flat. We do not know how many years he was engaged in gold mining as the next two births of Thomas in 1858 and Michael in 1860 were not officially registered and we are consequently unable to obtain birth certificates and accompanying information of residence.

⁹ The birth certificate said that this was in Tipperary, however there is no locality in Tipperary with this name, it is possible that the registrar was confused with the previous entry where the mother came from Tipperary. Every other indication from death certificates etc was that Ann came from Clare.

Axe Creek

We do know that Patrick purchased freehold land on 19th September 1863 of 20 acres from Patrick O'Connell in the Parish of Sedgwick on the Axe Creek (Allotment 8 Section 6 part), for the sum of £30 sterling.^{10 11} One can only assume that he spent some years mining and saved enough money to purchase the twenty acres, land of course being crucially important to the Irish immigrants. He was by this time 55 years of age and Ann 35 years.

The next mention of the family comes with the birth of Patrick Junior in May 1864¹² with the family in Axe Creek. Next year 1865 we have a copy of an Application form for the Axe Creek School No 796 dated 11 February 1865, applying for Aid to Non-Vested Schools¹³. Patrick Junior was given the age of 3 years when of course he was only nine months at the time, perhaps he was needed to swell the numbers, this is made clearer in an accompanying letter of 1 June 1865 berating the establishment of the new school.

Patrick made another foray into land under the 1869 Land Act, and in June 1869 he applied for a license for 20 acres of land in the Parish of Sedgwick (Allotment 4 Section 19)¹⁴ about 4½ miles south of his residence. This was granted to him in October 1869 subject to modification of boundaries which meant that he lost four acres of it, as some of it was required for a road or track which communicated to Mandurang and Lyell; he asked for a compensating four acres but this was not granted, he was only able to purchase the 16 acres in May 1873 after complying with the 1869 lease application.

This was a period of land expansion for Patrick in a small way as he began to consolidate himself. In June 1871, once again under the 1869 Land Act, he applied for a license to occupy 100 acres about a mile and a half away south east from his residence on the 20 acres on Axe Creek. This area was known by the descendants of Patrick as the Back Paddock; through the help of Mollie Power and Kelvin Green (descendants of Patrick Junior), we have copies of the original Conditional Receipts for the money paid by Patrick for each six months occupation of the license prior to final payment.

Patrick died on 23 August 1874¹⁵, but a month before having complied with the conditions of the 1871 licence he was able to apply for a lease of the land as the three year period had been fulfilled. The progress payments under the Land Act ran as follows - License to Occupy (3 years), Lease (up to 7 years) and finally Land Grant, (all payment cumulative to the final payment). On one part of the application he was able to sign his signature as also on his will of 2 May 1874 in a rather shaky fashion, but on the Declaration upon Oath for the granting of a lease he was only able to make a make his mark; - he was obviously a sick man at this stage and died a month later at the age of 66 years. The 100 acre block was finally paid off in 1881 stating that all the necessary fees had been paid..

From information in Patrick's probate, we see that a three room slab hut was situated on the original homestead block of 20 acres, and this is where the family of Bridget, James, William, Thomas, Michael and Patrick were reared.

Later in 1890, when Ann Green applies for a license for 65 acres next to the 100 acre block, the documentation mentions a six room dwelling on the 20 acre block, this ties with the oral memory of Molly Power that there were two homes on the 20 acre block. Molly's memory is of the second home (6 rooms), in which Ann, Patrick Junior and maybe Michael and William lived. The 3 room slab hut had been replaced by a six room dwelling; James and William had left home in the 1870's.

Once again the 65 acre block like the 16 acre block was described as being rough and stony, unsuitable for cultivation, it was transferred in May 1890 from Ann to Patrick with a mortgage on it. Patrick Junior in 1903 writes a sad little letter to the Lands Department asking for time to pay arrears on his account on the 65 acres because of drought and deaths in the family, this was obviously a bad time for him. He had married Sophie Vlaeminck (the daughter of Axe Creek residents) in 1897¹⁶, had lost twins Jean Baptiste and Joseph in 1899 two days after their birth and then lost Mary Theresa in 1901 as well as his wife Sophie and a baby Veronica, so he had reason to ask for lenience in the matter of his fees. All of this would be good reason for Sophie to be known as "Poor Sophie" as she was referred to by the James Green family.

In 1895, Patrick Junior also rented 75 acres from Alfred England (a neighbour), this was Allotment 7 Section 6, west of the 20 acre homestead block across the Axe Creek, then in 1898 he purchased it from Alfred England.¹⁷ In the 1900's, Patrick who stayed at Axe Creek continued to add to his holdings, this was consolidated by his son James and by Kelvin the son of James who still resides at Axe Creek and is still in possession of the 20 acre block among other holdings.

Inspector's Report on Application for Aid 15 May 1865

The Axe Creek school 24 is a school under C of E management but for this there is nothing to prevent a large majority of the children at present attending the school for which application is now made and who are Roman Catholics from attending it.
 I had not the time Having lost my way in going out in the morning to see the population further up the creek, but believe that the Axe Creek is populated by small farmers for three or four miles further up the Axe Creek diggings.

Possibly a site might be further found off the school 24. This is one of those applications the granting of which must depend on the Board's general policy.

Rev. Sir

I beg to call your attention to the following facts. A school has been formed in the neighbourhood under the superintendence of the Roman Catholic Priest and its local committee has been applying for Gov't aid. Now I submit that the Local Committee of this school and myself have just grounds for complaint on consequence of some scholars who used to attend this school having left to attend the New School, 796 in the consequence of any fault found with the instruction or any fair reason of the kind, but because they are compelled to attend through fear of being punished by their priest who has, I hear threatened to whip them from this school to the other, My next complaint is that some scholars who used regularly to attend this school have been kept away even up to the day the Inspector General visited my school through the same fear and yet the parents tell me that that they will not send them to the Roman Catholic School as they feel that they have no just cause for doing so, as their children are making satisfactory progress here. Now in this last case I submit that the children are actually hindered from receiving any education at all thanks to the New School which is applying for aid from Gov't for its supposed usefulness. On the day of inspection no less than 11 Roman Catholic children were kept away entirely owing I am informed to orders on the subject of the R.C. priest. I have felt it my duty to trouble you with this matter for the double reason that it so materially affects both school and headmaster.

A.F.Merlet

Matt Budd adds to his report... As the influence used to compel attendance at 796 I know nothing about it nor do I see that it concerns the case whether they were used or not.

Warragamba

Meanwhile in November 1873 at the age of 21, 8 months before his father died, James the oldest son of Patrick and Ann, applied for a license of 237 acres on the recently opened Burnewang Estate, outside Elmore at Warragamba. Later in 1874, his sister Bridget who married James Tohill would have settled at Runnymede on the other side of Elmore.

The land on the Burnewang Estate¹ was moderately timbered with grey box and she-oak trees, with middling soil², all of which James had to clear. He initially erected a 25 x 14 foot slab and bark dwelling with two rooms, a log stable and various bark out houses. In the three years previously, he stated on his application³ that "he couldn't reside on the land altogether as he didn't have sufficient means without working elsewhere". He gave his address at that time as Strathfieldsaye Post Office and had also been the informant at his father's death in 1874 and said he resided at Axe Creek, so he obviously went back and forth to Axe Creek in those first three years working and establishing himself financially, a big task for a 21 to 23 year old.

In 1879, because of failure of crops and pressure of creditors, James was forced to mortgage his lease to John Donaldson of 109 Collins Street for the amount of £120 at 12% interest. Following on this, James married Mary Cunneen of Runnymede in 1881⁴, they were the first couple to be married at the new Catholic Church there. No doubt James would have met Mary when visiting his sister Bridget Tohill who lived near the Cunneens. Mary's mother Ellen Cunneen had died in February 1873 when Mary was 16 years old so James could have known her from that time until their marriage in 1881. Bridget Tohill would have been the key to the equation as she was probably later on when Mary Green Junior married Henry Carmody who farmed at Runnymede.

Miraculously by 1884 James had gained his final land grant and had it all paid and cleared. This is curious considering that he was having trouble the previous year with his rent and asking for two months leeway because his wheat was in store and the markets were too dull to sell it. Whether he had cleared his mortgage from 1879 is unknown, but he was obviously still struggling in 1883 and he could only have received an injection of funds from family sources - in all probability Michael Cunneen.

James and Mary Green raised ten children at Warragamba. Mary who married Henry Carmody and settled at Runnymede, Anne who married Tom Connolly and settled at Runnymede, Patrick unmarried who stayed at the farm at Warragamba, Ellen (Nellie) who married Jack McNamara and settled at Myola via Toolleen, Michael who married Eileen O'Brien and settled at

There was a four roomed weatherboard home on the property, comprising one large sitting room and three bed rooms, a brick paved passageway courtyard between this and a large separate weatherboard building consisting of the kitchen and another small room. There was also a well to the side of the courtyard and an underground dairy. Also there was a separate mud brick building with an earthen floor behind the kitchen, this was referred to as "The Barracks", and the boys slept there.

After the death of James Green in 1924⁵, the farm was left to his son James who farmed it until 1951, when it was sold.

In the Probate Inventory of James's will⁶, it details James's original 237 acres as having become 227 acres - 10 acres of it having been resumed for the Elmore to Cohuna train line which ran alongside the property - no doubt it was compensated for. At some time, he had also purchased another 237 acres over the other side of the road and train line, bringing his total holding to 464 acres- stables, sheds, barns, pig sty, cow bails and sheep yards were also detailed. In the 50 years that he had been there James Green had retained the original block and acquired an equivalent size block over the railway line. The sheer fact of retaining and holding on to land in this drought prone area was an accomplishment in itself.

William Green took up land at Warragamba at the same time as brother James, but unfortunately the land selection file has been mislaid over the years in the Lands Department, and therefore there it is not available in the Public Record Office. We cannot therefore follow his land story as closely as James except to know that he lived ½ a mile away on 160 acres and brought his family up in tandem to James.

Whilst James and William went over to Warragamba, Thomas and Michael appeared to have shared a 78 acre block next to the original 16 acre block of Patrick senior, four miles south of the original 20 acre block at Axe Creek. Michael farmed later at Sutton Grange, and Thomas took up land at Ballen Della near Rochester until 1902 when his wife Susan McGann inherited land at Warragamba after the death of her mother Bridget McGann; this was Allotment 53D in the Parish of Warragamba and was about a mile from the other two Green families of James and William.

Mr. William Green

It is with regret we record the passing of Mr William Green, fourth son of Mr and Mrs James Green, of Warragamba, the sad event occurred at the Anzac Hostel, Brighton, early yesterday morning. In October, 1916, the deceased young man enlisted for the Great War, and was attached as Corporal to the 27th battalion, A.I.F. He was wounded at Proyart (France) on the 12th August 1918, just prior to the signing of the Armistice, and so severe were the injuries that he was totally incapacitated. He was admitted to the Anzac Hostel Brighton in January, 1919, and during his lengthy illness bore up with much fortitude. The cutting down of a life so full of promise is sad indeed, and deep sympathy goes out to Mr and Mrs Green and family in their great trial. Before enlisting the late Mr Green, who was in his 30th year, was a teacher in the Education Department, and at different times was stationed at Echuca, Bundalong, and finally at Wood Wood (Swan Hill). The funeral will take place to the Elmore Cemetery to-day (Saturday), the cortege moving from the Railway Station on arrival of the 1 P.M. Melbourne train.

The funeral of the late Mr William Green, son of Mr and Mrs James Green, of Warragamba, whose death was referred to in our last issue, took place to the Elmore Cemetery last Saturday, and was largely attended. The pall bearers were Patrick, Michael, James, Thomas, John and Charles Green, brothers of the deceased. The burial service was read by the Very Rev. Father Ryan, and Messrs Fisselle and Mulqueen carried out the mortuary arrangements.

A DILIGENT SCHOLAR - Master Willie Green, son of Mr Jas. Green of Warragamba, has put up something near a record for attending school. He is 15 years 2 months old, and has attended the Warragamba State school for over nine years without missing one half day, three of which he has been under Mr E.E. Wilson's tuition. Master Green was successful in a recent examination for Junior teacher at Echuca, which is all the more meritorious, owing to the fact that he had to contend against continuation school competitors. He has been an exemplary scholar both in his studies and attendance, hence he deserves his success, and with careful training and diligent study high honors are predicted for him in the Education Department.

From Memory Lane

Granny and Grandfather Green

by Mollie Callanan

One lasting impression of Granny is where she wore a tussore tailored suit and the blouse had a high necked whale bone collar and her hair tucked in a roll around her head. A very dignified person who could put the fear of God into us.

As children we often did the horse and buggy trip to Warragamba - six miles to Elmore and then nine or ten miles to the Green home. Half way there Mum stopped the horse and we got out and stretched our legs - one particular paddock was ablaze with sweet peas.

Our welcome was always great. Gran was a good housekeeper and I loved to go to the dairy (underground) with her. We must have got into trouble and at nightfall hid. After much searching Gran found us curled up in the chicken coop (three of us). Aunty Nell McNamara was also there and "The Barracks" (sleeping quarters for Gran's sons) was a must. Each morning beds to be made and the dirt floor sprinkled with water and swept.

While Gran and Aunty Nell cleared the tea dishes in the big kitchen, Grandfather would play snakes and ladders with me. He was wonderfully patient and I at times must have sorely tried him.

One chore I particularly remember... Gran was a great lady in the turkey industry. My chore was to chase the turkeys off the Cohuna railway line. Smoke rising in the air from Hunter Station was a signal for action. "Train Coming" was Gran's cry and I would race over to the line and through the fence and chase those dratted turkeys.

Aunty Nell and I slept in the big double bed. One night she woke after having a terrible dream - a German soldier was choking her. I had twisted right around and had my heel on her throat - after that we slept with a big pillow between us.

One holiday I went to the Diggora School for a week or so. Gran would get me out to the road and Ron McKay escorted me to the school.

As I became tamer Gran took me out with her. One holiday I had with her in Melbourne and I really enjoyed being with her. I went to Anzac Hostel to see Uncle Willie and walking home along North Road to the tram we heard footsteps behind us. It was dark and we were both scared but it was only a man walking on his way.

Gran often visited us at Runnymede. For a while she lived in Elmore and we would often call. There it was that she taught me how to cook a steamed egg.

I also remember her step mother (Mrs) we called her. She made an attempt to teach me Gaelic but I failed. Gran and Mrs had a very good relationship and poor old Mrs was very sad when Uncle Bill was drowned at Runnymede.

My memories of Gran and Grandfather are pleasant and I loved them both. They worked hard and with ten children life could not have been too easy. Uncle Tom and Charlie I knew best - also Uncle Jim and Paddy.

Gran always called Grandfather "James".

Uncle Jim and Aunt Nell took me by gig to Kaamerooka. It was to visit a family "O'Donoghue's" - seemed an awfully long way.

I liked Uncle Tom a lot - he had lovely manners, was outgoing and was a gentleman and his children were always beautifully dressed - Aunt Susan was a wonderful cook, always cooking for everybody.

My mother Mary used to do the bread baking in the stone ovens out the back of the kitchen when she was at Warragamba, Aunt Nell was in charge of the dairy but I remember Granny Green milked the cows. They were friendly with the Fiedlers who owned the store at Warragamba. I always remember the chiffonier in the sitting room at Warragamba, it was very large and had all of Granny's glass and china in it.

I remember old Uncle Jim Tohill a dim memory of a very old man - He was pretty good at telling yarns - very far fetched ones. One that I remember was that he thought he sat on a log and sank his knife into it, it moved and he found it was a boa constrictor. Auntie Tohill I remember quite well. - A little woman and I remember her in the kitchen putting the kettle on the fire, always telling us how polite and good the Ryans (her grandchildren) were, - always wore their gloves and did not chew lollies at the wrong time. The Carmodys did not measure up to them. Mum (Mary Carmody) used to visit Rose Ryan quite often. She would drive across in the buggy with us on board for a very enjoyable visit. Both Rose and Uncle Mat as we called him were very nice.

Memories of Rita Connolly

I remember my mother Annie saying that she went over to Axe Creek in 1904 when she was nearly twenty. Ann Green (senior) was very ill and dying and Mum's father James had sent her over from Warragamba to help at the homestead. Patrick Junior had lost his wife Sophie in 1901 and did not remarry until 1905 after his mother's death, so a pair of female hands would have been necessary in the house at the time.

Mum remembered the old lady as being very fat and big with obvious cardiac problems, sitting in a chair and saying "Everybody go to bed, I won't die tonight." (Charles Green also had an oral memory passed down from this time that as the old lady was dying and nearly dead, she sat up in bed and said "I'll take a cup of broth.")

Mum also talked of the orchard around the house and of that time she put a box of green pears under her bed, forgot about them and then found them a week later turned golden brown.

I remember going out to stay at Warragamba with Mum when grandfather James was dying and I slept in the room opposite. Even though we weren't overly religious I said Hail Marys all night for him. Granny was fairly severe and I was a bit frightened of her. My sister Mary and I liked to put pebbles on the railway line (which was so close to the house) in an effort to see what happened to them, or perhaps derail the train. Sometimes, we went to stay with Uncle Tom and Auntie Susan - they had a lovely house with a billiard table and Mary and I were very fond of Reve Green one of their daughters.

Mary Lucy Green (Cunneen)

by her Granddaughter Anne Bailey

Any memory of Lucy Green has to take into account the fact that she was a month short of 16 when her mother Ellen died with a miscarriage in February 1873. Mary was the oldest of ten children, the youngest Charles being one year old at his mother's death. This sudden change in Mary's life would have brought her enormous responsibility in the Cunneen household. Her father, Michael, did not marry his second wife Mary Anne Glynn (Missus), until over four and a half years later, so Mary Green would have had a very busy and demanding life in those four and a half years - young children to mother as well as the day to day domestic tasks of a busy farm.

My father Charles Green remembered that his mother had hoped to go away to PLC for a last year or two of schooling, but all this would have been shelved in the sudden change of circumstances.

This background has to be remembered when we look at her personality and bearing, Six feet tall, she was remembered lovingly by her brothers and sisters, no doubt from her position as surrogate mother to them. She had a very happy relationship with her stepmother - in fact she loved "Missus" - often a rare thing in the stepmother relationship.

Mary Cunneen and James Green were the first couple to be married in the Runnymede Church, and her granddaughter Dorothy Black, daughter of Thomas, now wears her wedding ring. I wear the wide gold ring she gave her son Bill when he went away to the first World War with (WG) inscribed on it.

Known as "Mater" to her own children - she commanded love tinged with a real respect. She loved clothes and a great joy was to be able to come to Melbourne to purchase some -- a natural need for a woman whose life on the farm was hard working and demanding.

Her great sadness was to lose her son Bill who had been paralysed in the spine in the first World War - he died in 1923, after spending some time in Anzac Hostel, Brighton.

Her strength of mind (a little bit similar to that of Archbishop Mannix at the same period), had stopped her other sons from enlisting. The second youngest son Thomas, eluded her however, and got as far as Broadmeadows in the Army but she demanded him back, informing the authorities that he was under age. It would have been a strong-minded woman to have behaved like this, given the prevailing feeling current at the time in Australia.

Money left to Mary at her father Michael's death in 1906, provided the means to give her younger sons an education. With ten children of her own and seven of them sons, there was obviously not enough room for them all on the Green's farm - she often said that the younger sons would end up being labourers, if they did not receive an education. Her husband, James did not see this need so clearly and it was due solely to Mary that Bill, Jack, Thomas and Charles were sent away to Bendigo for the first step in their long education, a chance which they all took and for which they were very grateful.

My father, Charles, was always deeply grateful to his mother for this opportunity. My parents met because of Grandma Green - when her son Bill was lying in Anzac Hostel she would come to town with members of the family to visit him. My aunt Freda Goyne Stevens was at the time visiting the soldiers and singing to them and distributing comforts, cigarettes etc. Freda brought Mary Green and her sons Thomas and Charles to her home and here Charles met my mother Valerie, who was just leaving school. Seven years later they were married and started their own family and became my parents.

Memorabilia of the Warragamba farm which we retain include a screwdriver, a broad splitter axe, 2 wedges, aboriginal axes, a home made coat hanger and a pitch fork (later stolen by tree loppers who obviously fancied it).

Growing up as a little girl, Green hospitality provided me with three lovely holidays in the country, once at Mary Carmody's, once at Nell Nihill's and once at Aunt Nellie McNamara's at Myola.

Two questions I posed to my father Charles were :

Question How did you learn to swim?

Answer My brothers threw me into the dam when I was about four and I dogpaddled out in desperation - it was that or drowning.

Question Where were you born?

Answer On the kitchen table of course.

This throws up the picture of country women giving birth at home with or without the assistance of a midwife or doctor. The fact that all ten children survived in the Green family says a lot for their health and stamina.

Memories from the Children of Tom Green

By Dorothy Black, Kevin, Bill and John Green.

Our father Tom told us of evenings at Warragamba sitting with his mother and his brother Charles, reading by the light of a kerosene lamp. He remembers receiving Catechism lessons from Mrs. Dando (a Cunneen connection) - perhaps as preparation for first Holy Communion.

Bill has a clear memory of going to Elmore with our father, and Kevin and John to see our grandmother "The Mater", who was living with the two Misses Tuohy at the time. They stayed overnight in a hotel - and the three boys shared a bed. Bill remembers our grandmother as an elderly grey-haired lady with her hair in a bun. Morning tea came and the scones were rock hard. They declined the scones with thanks. John believes this was between 1941 and 1943. The boys remember our grandmother was dressed in a black dress and cardigan, sitting comfortably in a cane chair on the front verandah, but John sensed she had limited mobility.

Our mother spoke with great warmth of the kindness of our father's family to her. Dorothy remembers a holiday at Auntie Mary Carmody's home, the highlight being her mother being prevailed upon to eat two lamb chops for breakfast. We looked forward to the visits to Melbourne of Auntie Anne Connolly and Auntie Nell McNamara and their daughters. During the war when we had ration books, Auntie Nell would frequently give our mother butter coupons.

Des Black has in his possession a boot last, a sharpening stone and a tomahawk from the Warragamba property.

Mollie Callanan has been a long-time Melbourne resident and a special friend of the Tom Green family. We were delighted when Mary and Rita Connolly, and Uncle Micks' daughters Mary, Clare and Eileen came to live and work in Melbourne. Dorothy was a bridesmaid when Eileen married Jack Hennessy.

Our father's closest friend was his brother Charles. They shared many interests - both school teachers, they played golf together, and they regularly sent in a combined entry to "Wealth Words" (run by the Melbourne Herald.) They won no prizes - indeed at times they had reservations about the judges' decisions.

Memories of Molly Power About Axe Creek

The old home of Patrick Green Junior (my grandfather) was 2 buildings. The kitchen was a slab construction with one big room and a wash room in this segment. A huge chimney formed one end of the building with a Dutch oven and the old fashioned hanging crane arrangement with hooks for the kettles and pots. Grandfather had a toasting fork made from No. 8 fencing wire because it was too hot to get close otherwise. There was a board floor in the kitchen with no linoleum.

My father James told me that the original home of Patrick and Ann Green was much closer to the Axe Creek, this second home where my grandfather lived was closer to the Axe Creek Sutton Grange Road and was also on the 20 acre block.

There was quite a bit of orchard around it as I remember, and the other part of the home was a four room weatherboard construction with dado boards in the back rooms and the walls of the two front rooms (including the sitting room) were of paper and hessian; they had been there a long time as they were in a fairly poor state when I was a little girl in the late 1930's, the ceilings had lining board.

I remember that the legs of the kitchen table stood in little tins of water to stop the black ants coming up for food. There was a dreadful fly catcher - a glass dome shaped bowl with a piece of honey on cardboard to entice the flies - there were no wire doors of course. The dairy was very cool and the family had a contract to sell milk up to 1944.

Ann looked after my father James after his mother Sophie died and he talked a lot about Warragamba - he probably stayed there sometimes when he was small.

From Nell Nihill

I can remember Aunty Tohill, she was very small and used to wear a fancy black bonnet always. Jack (her son) lived in the old home near here. Jim lived in New Zealand and he had a big family. Frank lived in Melbourne. Mary Ann married Jack Carmody, Rose was Mrs Matt Ryan.

Memory of Mathew and John Green at Warragamba in the School Holidays with their Father Charles Circa 1939

A memory of rushing out for the mail and paper when the train came by, a man stood in the guard's van and threw it out. (Mathew)

The peacocks which used to sit up the top of the red gum tree and screeched at twilight - they were quite terrifying as I had no experience of them before. (Mathew)

Uncle Jim who thought it part of my education to see a sheep slaughtered under a tree - this was a totally new experience. (Mathew)

A wooden seat Uncle Jim and Paddy had put on the back of a hay wagon so we could sit on it and ride around the paddock picking up the hay. (Mathew & John)

The old stables with all the equipment in it. (John)

Visiting Grandma Green in Elmore and she was lying on a couch under an opossum rug with tails on it. (Mathew)

My father Charles taking me a little way along the road to see some old building and saying it was very important. (John) Could this have been the first building of James Green?

Clare Marks' Memories of Rochester

Living on the farm with Mum and Dad and my sisters my first memories of Dad was his love of his big Clydesdale horses. He was always ploughing etc. For crops of wheat and the horses had to be taken to the Campaspe river to drink and then fed with chaff and oats. When we started school at Strathallan we drove to school in a gig. Some other children rode horses, we girls played basketball and the boys played football. We also had inter school athletics. As time passed the country had too much wheat and Dad gradually changed to dairy cows. Mary and I helped to milk the cows at night and feed the calves, Dad and Mum went to Rochester every sale day. It was cattle one week and sheep the next. Mum had a lot of hens and sold eggs. We took the can of cream or Mum's on our way to school and left them at the Strathallan station. The cream to Rochester and the eggs to Melbourne. Time passed and Dad changed to sheep when we had left home. The price of wool went up and the trams and trains were on strike for three months. Dad's wool stayed at Rochester station and ended up with the top price and bought himself a new car.

As early teenagers our Sunday amusement was to cross the Campaspe river on a log and walk the other side of the river until the next log, and I remember you Dorothy coming to our place with your Mum and Dad and Uncle Paddy and Jim. We took you to see the chickens and one ran up to you and you ran away from them. One of our best days of the year was the Show Day and meeting Uncles Paddy and Jim who both always gave us two shillings each. They made our day.

The school and station have gone from Strathallan and Rochester has not increased its population. The only business the butter factory has closed down.

MR. JAMES TOHILL.

It is our duty to record, with regret, the passing hence of still another stoutheart of the district in the person of Mr. James Anthony Tobill, of Campaspe, in the Mt. Pleasant farming areas. For forty years a resident of the district, and a most successful farmer, the late Mr. Tobill hailed from County Antrim, Ireland, where he first saw the light of day in 1835. Fifty years ago he arrived in Melbourne, where he joined the police force, having previously been a member of the Irish Constabulary in Belfast. Having caught the gold-fever, Mr. Tobill resigned his position, and went to New Zealand in quest of fortune. But Fortune proved elusive, as ever, and our friend subsequently delved in Queensland, New South Wales, and Victoria. Then he came to another of our pioneers, and he farmed at Charlotte Plains. Then the call of the plough found him settled in Campaspe, over 40 years ago, on a snug holding of 320 acres. A little later he took to himself a wife—marrying Miss Bridget Green, at Bendigo. The ceremony was performed in St. Kilian's Chapel, by the late Dr. Backhaus. As a farmer, the late Mr. Tobill was very successful. Of late years he had just taken things easy on the farm. He was in his usual health on Monday morning. After lunch he went to his room to take his usual afternoon nap. When his wife went to call him later she found that her help-mate had passed away in his sleep—worn out with years, yet peacefully reclining in the arms of Death. The old gentleman had never complained of being unwell, and his sudden demise came as a great shock to his friends and relatives, for whom much sympathy is felt. In his prime the late Mr. Tobill was a fine stamp of a man—being over six feet in stature. He was highly esteemed far and wide for his manly and kindly attributes. Besides the widow, Messrs James Tobill, of New Zealand; John and Frank, of Melbourne; and Mrs. John Carmody, of Sydney, and Mrs. Mat Ryan, of Wanalta, are left to mourn the loss of a kindly husband and father. The funeral to the Runnymede Cemetery took place on Wednesday, when a large gathering of mourners were present, over 60 vehicles joining in the cortege. The Rev. Father Ryan, of Elmore, officiated at the graveside. Messrs. J., W., T., M., and W. Green (brothers of Mrs. Tobill) and Mr. J. Burke, acted as pall-bearers, and Messrs. Finella and Mulqueen attended to the mortuary arrangements.

1914

The many Elmore and district friends of the late Mr. Patrick Green learned with regret of his death which occurred suddenly at his home Hervey Street, Elmore, on Wednesday morning of last week. The late Mr. Green was a native of Warragamba, and was a son of the late James and Mary Green. He and his brother, James had successfully carried on farming pursuits at Warragamba until their retirement to Elmore about two years ago. The deceased was interested in all forms of sport, and was a popular personality in the district and had a very friendly disposition. He was also a fine musician, and in his younger days his services in this sphere were widely in demand. Sympathy is extended to his five brothers—Messrs Michael, James, John, Thomas and Charles Green; three sisters—Mary (Mrs. Carmody) Annie (Mrs. Connolly), Ellen (Mrs. McNamara), and other relatives. Requiem Mass for the repose of his soul was celebrated at Our Lady of the Sacred Church, Elmore, by the Very Rev. Dean Dullard. After prayers the funeral left for the Elmore cemetery, and was largely attended by country and district friends and relatives. The burial service was read by the Very Rev. Dean Dullard.

Mr. James Green

The death has occurred of Mr. James Green, of Hervey Street, Elmore, at the Elmore District Hospital after a severe illness. The late Mr. Green was a native of the Warragamba district, where he had carried on wheat and sheep farming with great success, and he retired to reside at Elmore about six years ago. While at Warragamba he was prominent in fire brigade work and was always a keen follower of sport. He was well known and highly respected throughout the district. Mr. Green is survived by four brothers, Messrs. Michael, John, Thomas and Charles; three sisters, Mary (Mrs. Carmody), Annie (Mrs. Connolly) and Ellen (Mrs. J. McNamara) and other relatives. Requiem Mass for the repose of his soul was celebrated at Our Lady of the Sacred Heart Church, Elmore, by the Right Rev. Monsignor P. Dullard. After prayers the largely attended funeral left for the Elmore Cemetery, where Monsignor Dullard conducted the graveside service in the presence of a large gathering.

1957

CARMODY.—The death occurred at a private hospital in Melbourne of Mrs. Mary Carmody, well known in the Elmore district, after suffering failing health for the past 12 months. She was the eldest daughter of the late James and Mary Green of Warragamba and was 76 years of age. She had lived in Runnymede all her life and devoted her interests to her home and family. Mrs. Carmody is survived by her husband, Mr. Henry Carmody; one son, Mr. Henry Carmody, and three daughters, Mollie (Mrs. F. Callanan), Johanna (Mrs. F. Maher) and Ellen (Mrs. P. Nihill). Requiem Mass for the repose of her soul was celebrated at Our Lady of the Sacred Heart Church, Elmore, yesterday morning by Father Lane, and the funeral later left for the Runnymede cemetery, where Father Lane again officiated.

OBITUARY. 1924

MR. JAMES GREEN.

A DISTRICT PIONEER.

One of Warragamba's oldest and most respected residents, in the person of Mr James Green, passed away at his home on Saturday last, at 11.30 a.m. Mr Green had been in failing health for about 15 months, and had only been confined to his room for two weeks, all efforts being unavailing, despite careful nursing and the best medical attention, the cause of death being kidney trouble. Profound regret was felt throughout the whole district when it became known that another worthy stoutheart had crossed the Big Divide.

Mr Green was born in Brisbane in October, 1852, and was in his 72nd year. He came with his parents to Axe Creek (Victoria) in his infancy. When 21 years of age he selected at Warragamba where, by industry and perseverance he was most successful in agricultural pursuits. He married Miss Mary Cunneen in Sept., 1881, the celebration taking place in the R.C. Church, Runnymede. His genial disposition and uprightness gained to him a host of warm friends, who heard of his death with much regret. A wife and a family of nine are left to mourn his loss, viz., Mrs H. Carmody, Mrs T. Connolly (Runnymede), Mrs John M'Namara (Myola), Michael (Rochester), John (Murtoa), Thomas (Bendigo), Charles (Melbourne), and Patrick and James (Warragamba), also William, who died from wounds received in the great war. The late Mr Green did not take an active part in public affairs, but always backed up any movement for the advancement of the district.

The funeral took place to the Elmore Cemetery on Sunday afternoon, and the lengthy cortege, including over 100 cars and vehicles, testified to the high respect in which deceased was held. The coffin bearers were Messrs G. Woodburn, J. M'Gann, P. Green (nephew), D. and W. Cahill, and J. P. Tobill. The Very Rev. Father Ryan read the service at the grave, and Messrs Fizzle and Mulqueen (in conjunction with Mr W. Hagedorn) carried out the funeral arrangements.

Mrs. Mary Green.

Warragamba and district friends of Mrs. Mary Green learned with regret of her death at Bendigo recently, after a trying illness of about 12 months. The deceased lady was a native of Long Gully, but had spent most of her life at Warragamba. The late Mrs. Mary Green, who was 87 years of age, was the eldest child of the late Michael and Ellen Cunneen, of Runnymede, was the first bride in the Runnymede Catholic Church, and was presented with the customary Bible by the late Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah O'Brien. Sympathy is extended to deceased's six sons—Messrs. Patrick, Michael, James, John, Thomas, and Charles, and her three daughters—Mary (Mrs. H. Carmody), Annie (Mrs. T. Connolly), and Ellen (Mrs. J. McNamara)—and other relatives. Her husband, Mr. James Green, predeceased her in 1924, and one son—William (who was a corporal with the First A.I.F.) died in 1923. The funeral from Our Lady of the Sacred Heart to the Elmore cemetery was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The coffin-bearers were Messrs. Patrick, Michael, Thomas, and Charles Green (sons), Patrick and Thomas Tuohy (nephews). The pall-bearers were Messrs. L. McKay, J. Fiedler, J. Cummins, W. Cahill, G. Woodburn, and M. Frawley. The prayers at the Church were recited by Rev. Father Lehane, who also officiated at the graveside.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

The local State school held its annual picnic on Tuesday last in the usual meeting place, viz. Mr Fiedler's paddock, when over 180 attended the gathering. Compared with last week's beautiful sunshine, the weather for the occasion was not all that could be desired; nevertheless, as the day wore on, the afternoon improved considerably, though the wind remained rather high, and also cold. This latter feature, however, proved an incentive for some active pastimes and amusements, besides giving keen edges to all appetites. As usual, the ladies had well provided for this sociability, and lunch and tea were dispensed with very methodical arrangements. The sports committee did its work creditably, and provided the onlookers with plenty of amusements, and competitors with a variety of events. A pronounced success was the unanimous verdict of the picnickers, and everyone went home well pleased, even if tired. The following programme of sports was carried out:—(Class VI boys) footrace (sotch)—H Fiedler, 1; F Green, 2. IV and V (girls), handicap—M O'Connell, 1; R Shotton, 2. IV and V (boys), handicap—J Green 1; C Green, 2. III and II (girls), handicap—C Shotton, 1; F Green, 2. III and II (boys), handicap—R Fiedler, 1; J O'Sullivan, 2. I (boys)—L M Kay, 1; J Green, 2. I (girls)—A Kildes, 1; D Fiedler, 2. Skipping contest—Mary Kildes (477), 1; Florence Rooney, 2. Boys' Footrace (all comers)—J O'Brien, 1; P Green, 2. Girls' Footrace (all comers)—E Shotton, 1; F Rooney, 2. Stomach Race—A Fiedler and J Sullivan. Young Ladies' Footrace—Miss A Green, 1; Miss M Smith, 2. Sheffield Handicap (100yds), run in three heats and two semi-finals—Final: J Godfrey and H Park (tie). Tipping on Bicycle (two minutes)—J Fiedler, 1; O Fiedler, 2. Old Huffers' Race—L Rooney. High Jump—R Kildes. Bowling Cricket Ball—H M'Gann.

The genial sunshine and typical spring conditions succeeding the continuously showery weather are rapidly forging the crops ahead, and despite the fact that many paddocks under cultivation were submerged for weeks, yet such plots are responding bravely to King Mol's influence. The grain that is under dry conditions general favorite with local agriculturists has also pride of place for a wet year, thus stamping itself as a splendid wheat for uncertain climates.

CATTLE.

The competition in Shorthorns was confined almost solely to R. M'Curry, of Rochester, and he scored heavily for beasts of exceptional quality. T. Green, Warragamba, secured a meritorious award for Hereford bull (any age), and Pitts Bros. were first and H. H. Adams second for Alderney or Jersey. Ayrshires had fair representation, and the prizes were distributed between Alf Dobell, D. H. Adams and Sons, Pitts Bros., and D. Trewick. There were two entries for fat cows, and the exhibits were extra prime, the prizes going to M'Curry and Hunter Bros. In dairy cattle, Pitts Bros. were first for cow and D. H. Adams and Sons for heifer (2yrs).

THOROUGHBREDS

Entire, any age: F. J. Wallis, Elmore, "Retso," 1 and champion.
Colt or gelding, 2yrs. Two entries—P. J. Connolly, Axedale, 1; Pitts Bros., Elmore, 2.

Mare, in foal or foal at foot. Five entries—M'Naught Bros., Diggora South, 1 and champion; T. M. Trewick and Sons, Elmore, 2.

Filly, yearling. Three entries—Steve L. O'Brien, Tennyson, 1; R. J. Ingram, Runnymede East, 2.

TROTTERS

Colt or gelding, 2yrs. Three entries—Pitts Bros., 1; T. M. Trewick & Sons, 2.

Trotting stallion: Robt. Hunter, Burnewang Park.

Colt, yearling: W. J. Watts, Kamarooka.

Mare, in foal or foal at foot. Three entries—William Green, Warragamba.

Elmore Show 1 October 1910

CATTLE.

There was a marked falling off in the number of cattle penned, but the quality was excellent. D. H. Adams was most successful in shorthorns, Ayrshires, and dairy cattle, and Mr C Reid, jun., was to the fore in Ayrshires. Herefords were a small class, and Jas Green being the only exhibitor. It features pens of fat oxen attracted considerable attention.

HERRIFORDS.

Bull, any age. One entry—Thos. Green, Warragamba.
Cow, any age. One entry—Jas. Green, Warragamba.

Elmore Show 3 October 1911

CATTLE.

Judges—John A. Beattie, Gisborne, and Wm. Foster, Nathalia.
Stewards—Messrs J. P. O'Brien, E. M'Kee, G. Simmie, and H. Boyd.

SHORTHORNS.

Bull, any age—J. H. M'Curry, Rochester, 1 and champion.
Bull, 2 years—J. H. M'Curry.
Cow, any age. Two entries—J. H. M'Curry, 1, 2, and champion.
Heifer, 2 years. Two entries—J. H. M'Curry.

HERRIFORDS.

Bull, any age—W. Kerlin, Rochester, 1 and champion.
Cow, any age. Three entries—W. Kerlin, 1 and champion; James Green, Warragamba, 2.
Heifer, 2 years—W. Kerlin, 1 and 2.

Elmore Show 23 October 1920

Dairy Produce.

Judge: Mr W. K. Munahan (Elmore).
Stewards: Messrs W. Haggdon, T. Parsons, R. H. M'Cauley, and R. Archibald.

The Produce shed was thronged all day long, and the exhibits proved to be amongst the most interesting at the Show, the womenfolk being particularly interested. Competition was as keen as mustard in the cookery sections, especially in scones and bread, while the entries for jams and jellies were fair. The cake and confection exhibits made a nice show, and the awards were well distributed.

Ham, home cured (amateurs). A. J. Walter, Warragamba.

Powdered butter, 5lb. Mrs W. H. Murphy, Runnymede, 1; F. J. Barrett, Runnymede, 2.

Yeast bread, two 2lb. loaves conjoined, home made (amateurs). Mrs W. J. Vickers, Runnymede, 1; Miss J. Scott, Avonmore, 2.

Loaf of bread, not baked in a tin, 2lb. (amateurs). Mrs T. Green, Warragamba, 1; Mrs D. J. Murphy, Runnymede, 2.
